In [1]:
```
: Pie Chart for Mobile Market Share

Import matplotlib library
import matplotlib.pyplot as plt

Mobile brands
brands = ["Samsung","Apple","Xiaomi","Oppo","Others"]

Market share in percentage (%)
share = [30,25,20,15,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(share, labels=brands, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title of the chart
plt.title("Mobile Market Share (%)")

Display chart
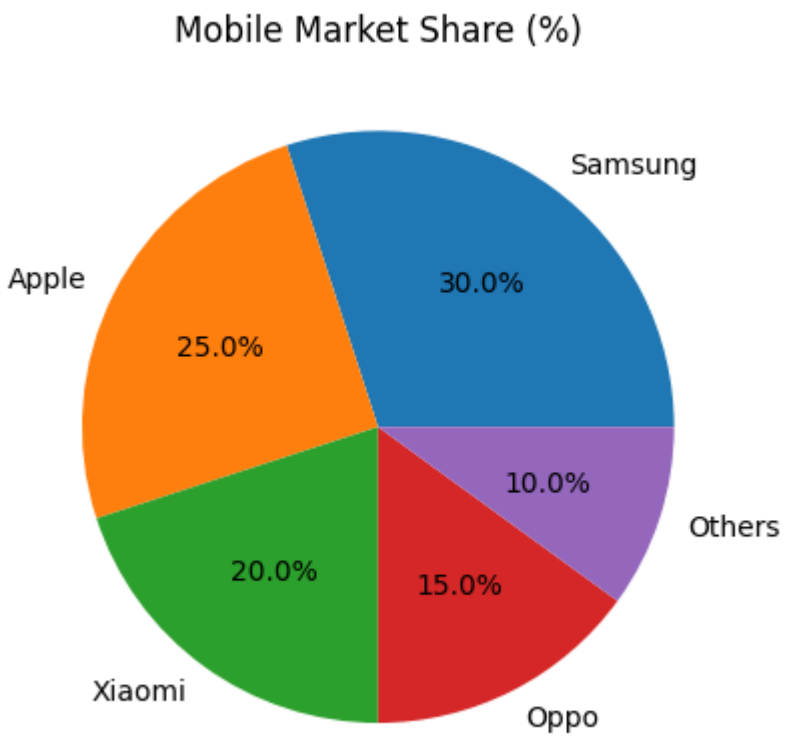
plt.show()
```



In [3]:
```
Pie Chart for Student Course Distribution

Courses taken by students
courses = ["Python","Java","Data Science","Web Development"]

Number of students (units = students)
students = [40,30,20,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(students, labels=courses, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
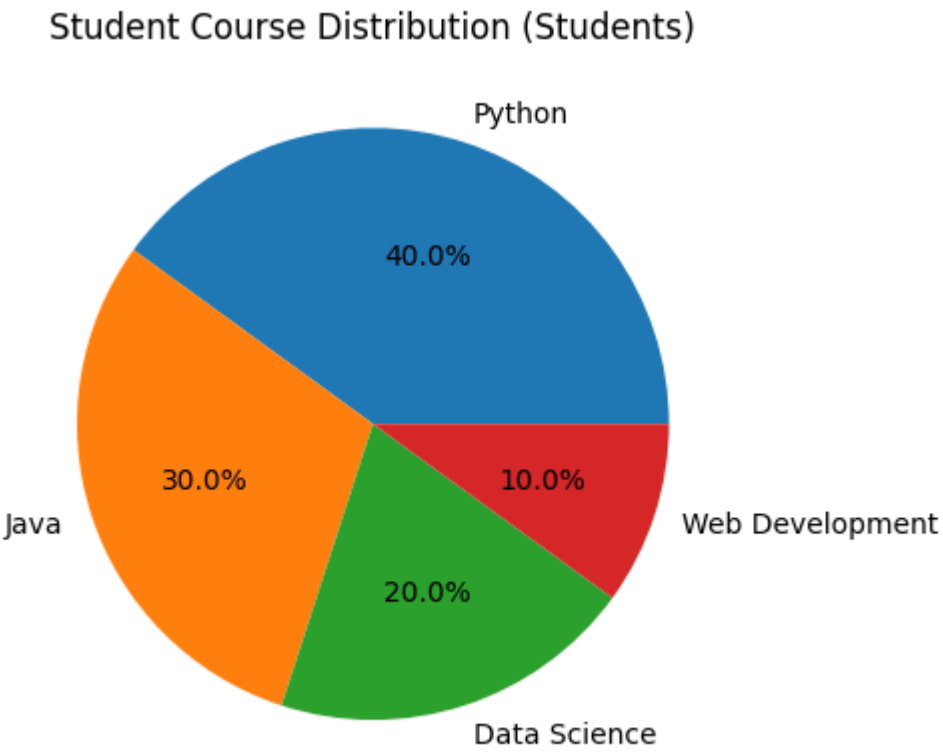
plt.title("Student Course Distribution (Students)")
```

```
plt.show()
```



In [4]:
```
Pie Chart for Monthly Expense Distribution

Expense categories
categories = ["Food","Rent","Travel","Shopping","Bills"]

Amount in Rupees (₹)
amount = [5000,12000,3000,4000,2500]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(amount, labels=categories, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
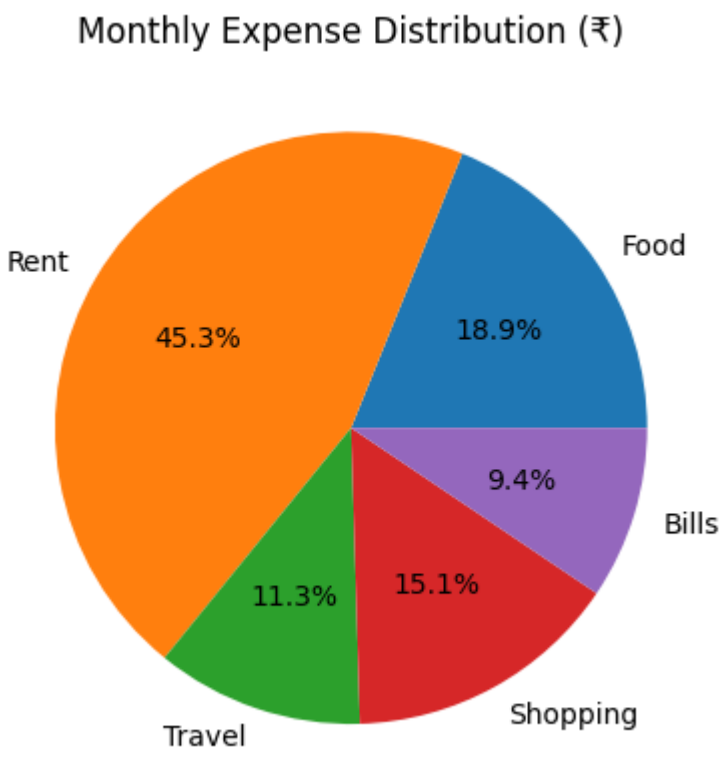
plt.title("Monthly Expense Distribution (₹)")

plt.show()
```



In [5]:
```
Pie Chart for Browser Usage Share

Browser names
browsers = ["Chrome","Edge","Firefox","Safari","Others"]

Usage share in percentage (%)
usage = [65,10,8,7,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(usage, labels=browsers, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
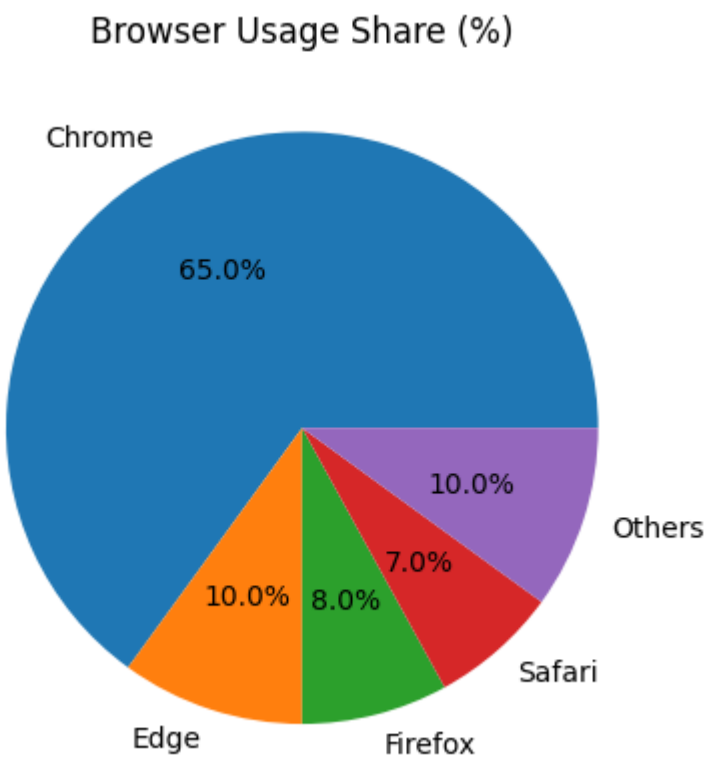
plt.title("Browser Usage Share (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [6]:
```
Pie Chart for Programming Language Popularity

Programming languages
languages = ["Python","Java","C++","JavaScript","Others"]

Popularity percentage (%)
popularity = [35,20,15,20,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(popularity, labels=languages, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
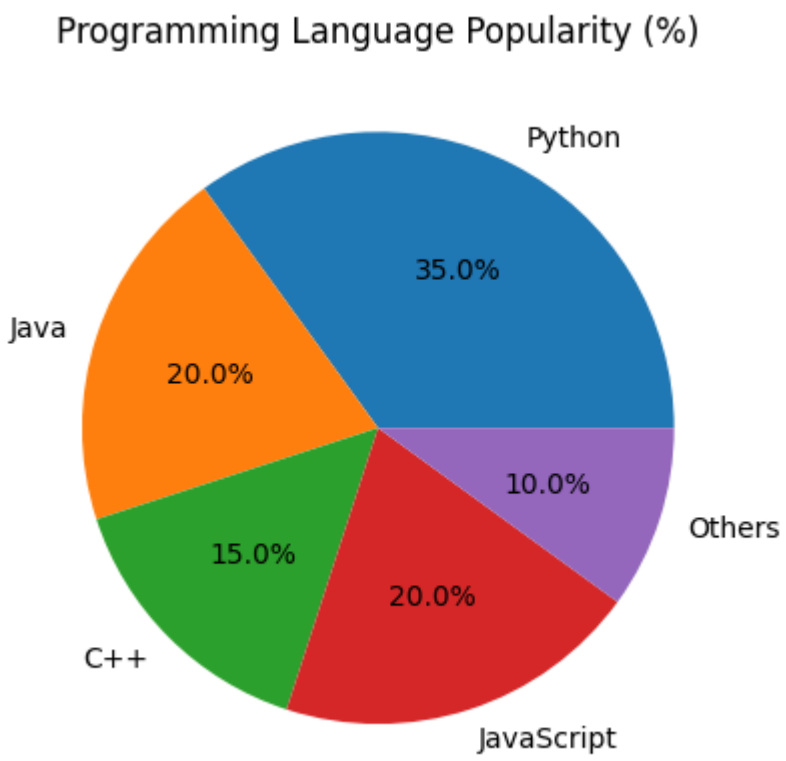
plt.title("Programming Language Popularity (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [7]:
```
Pie Chart for Social Media Usage

Social media platforms
platforms = ["Instagram","Facebook","Twitter","YouTube","Others"]

Usage percentage (%)
usage = [30,25,10,25,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(usage, labels=platforms, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
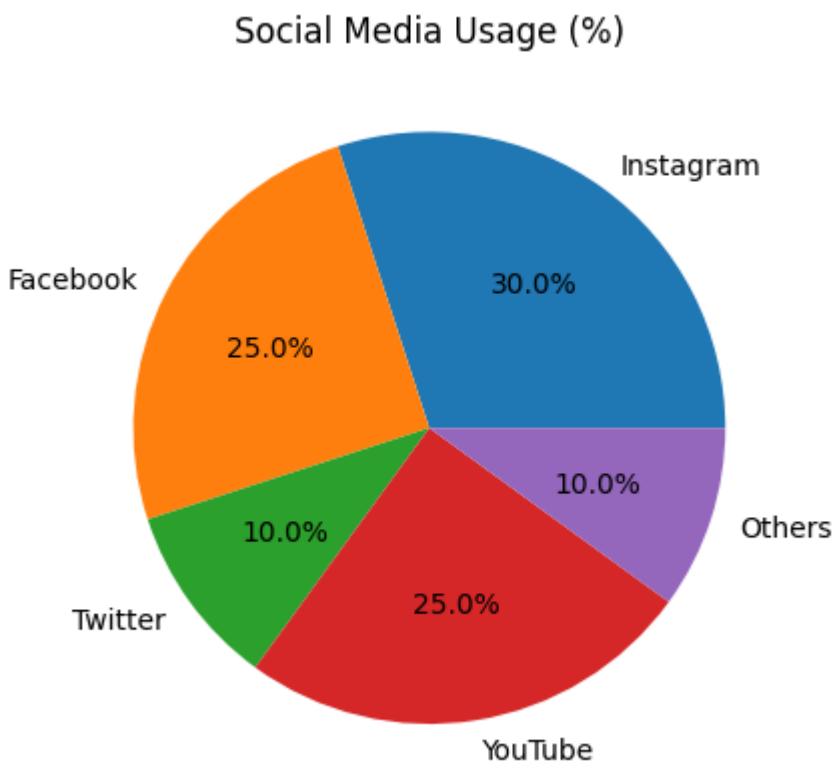
plt.title("Social Media Usage (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [8]:
```
Pie Chart for Company Department Budget

Departments
departments = ["HR","IT","Sales","Finance","Support"]

Budget allocation in percentage (%)
budget = [10,30,25,15,20]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(budget, labels=departments, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
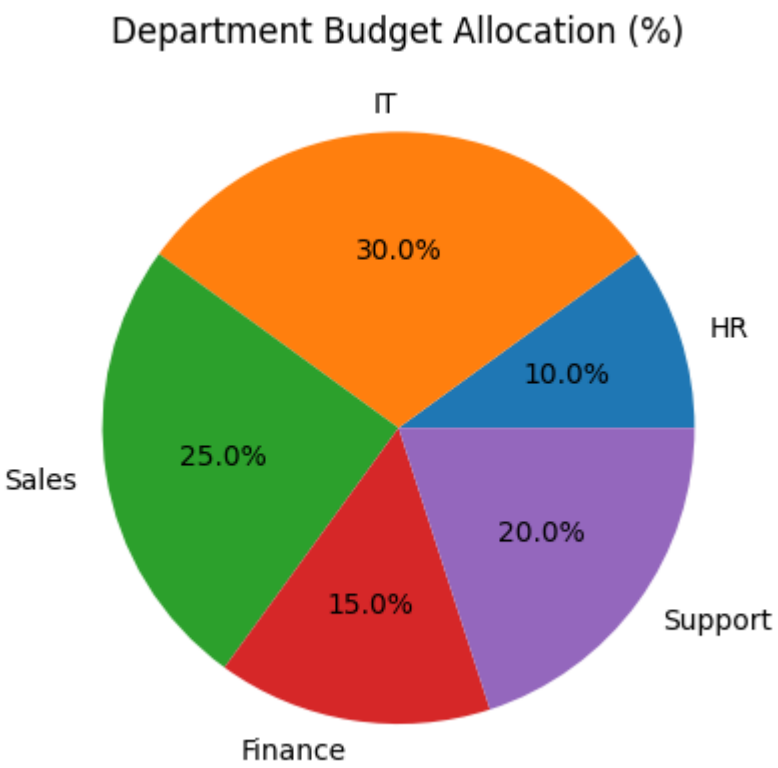
plt.title("Department Budget Allocation (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [9]:
```
Pie Chart for Transport Usage

Transport types transport = ["Bus","Car","Bike","Train","Others"]

Usage percentage (%)
usage = [30,25,20,15,10]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(usage, labels=transport, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
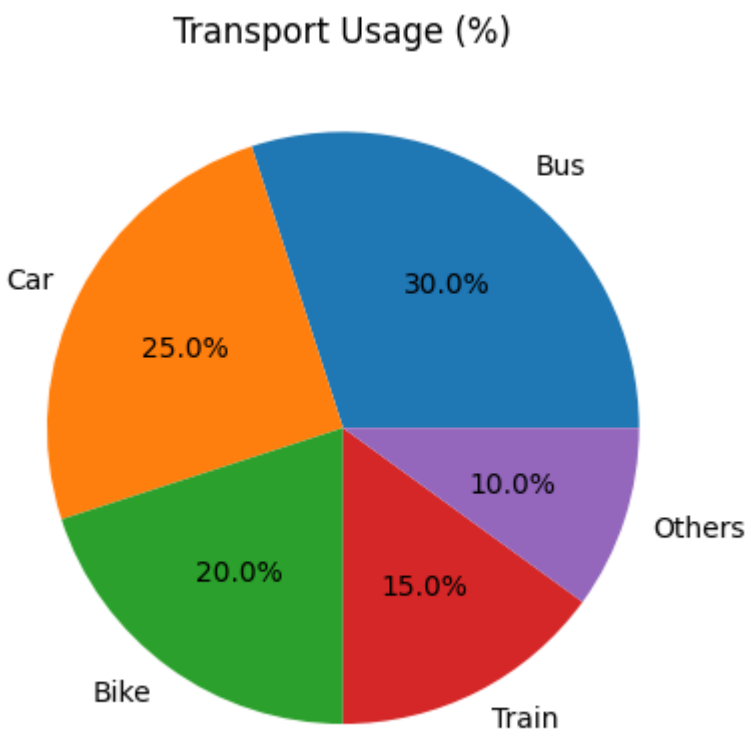
plt.title("Transport Usage (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [10]:
```
Pie Chart for Device Usage

Device types
devices = ["Mobile","Laptop","Tablet","Desktop","Others"]

Usage percentage (%)
usage = [50,20,10,15,5]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(usage, labels=devices, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
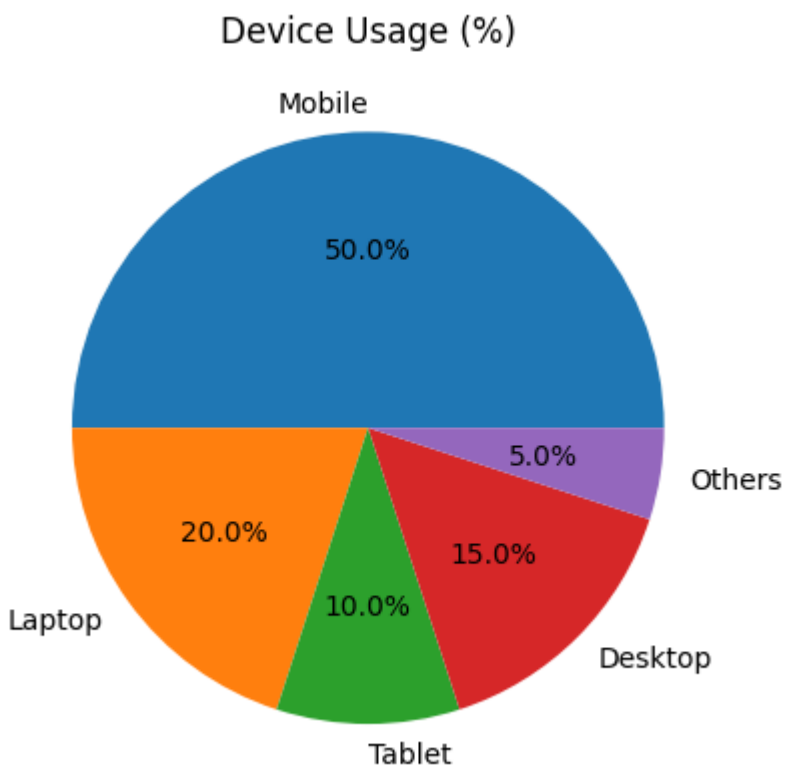
plt.title("Device Usage (%)")

plt.show()
```



In [11]:
```
Pie Chart for Electricity Usage by Appliance

Appliances
appliances = ["AC","Refrigerator","Washing Machine","TV","Others"]

Electricity usage in percentage (%)
usage = [40,20,15,10,15]

Create pie chart
plt.pie(usage, labels=appliances, autopct="%1.1f%%")

Title
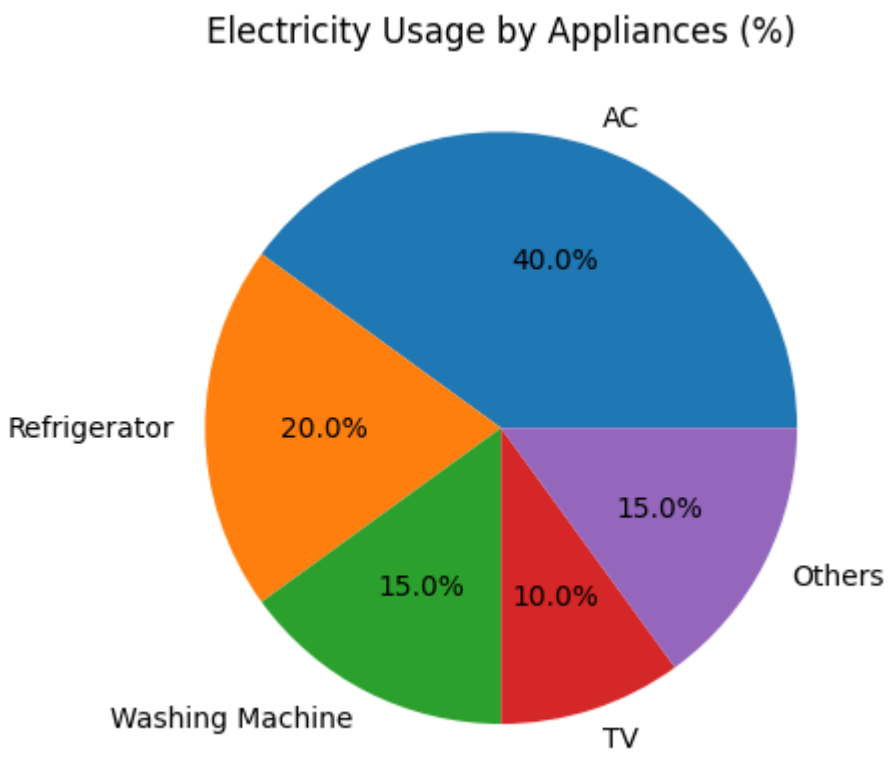
plt.title("Electricity Usage by Appliances (%)")

plt.show()
```



Electricity Usage by Appliances (%)
AC
40.0% Refrigerator
20.0%
15.0%
Others
15.0%
10.0%
Washing Machine
TV

In [ ]: